PM Narendra Modi

Hon'ble Prime Minister

“ In June last year, I had invited the people belonging to the PVTG communities to the Rashtrapati Bhavan. I spent a lot of time with them and discussed the solutions to their problems. I have been meeting tribal groups from all regions and states in the Rashtrapati Bhavan. During my visits to different states and Union Territories, I participate in programs focused on the tribal communities there, and I interact with them. I give special priority to meeting our tribal sisters. I am happy to see that a large number of our tribal sisters are achieving economic self-reliance through self-help groups and other means of growth. More and more opportunities for development are opening up for them. ”

on the eve of Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas 2024

“The celebration of Bhagwan Birsa Munda's birth anniversary inspires us to set significant goals. Together, we will make the tribal ethos the foundation of a new Bharat. We will preserve the heritage of the tribal community and learn from the traditions they have safeguarded for centuries. By doing this, we will build a truly strong, prosperous, and capable Bharat.”

Message

It is with immense pride that I present this Compendium on Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas 2024 celebrations, observed with great fervor across India and abroad. This day is dedicated to honoring the valor, resilience, and invaluable contributions of our tribal communities to India's rich heritage and history.

Under the visionary leadership of Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas has emerged as a national celebration of the indomitable spirit of our tribal communities. It is a tribute to the tribal freedom fighters who played a pivotal role in India's struggle for independence, rewriting history with their courage and sacrifice. This day also celebrates the cultural vibrancy, traditions, and timeless wisdom of our tribal communities, whose legacy continues to inspire and guide us.

This compendium is a humble effort to encapsulate the grassroots-level celebrations of Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas. It reflects the enthusiastic participation of all stakeholders, embodying the spirit of Jan Bhagidari and the collaborative ethos of a Whole-of-Government and Whole-of-Society approach. From the heroic tales of Bhagwan Birsa Munda to the enduring traditions that define our tribal societies, this document offers a glimpse into the diverse cultural tapestry of India's tribal heritage.

I hope this compendium serves as a source of inspiration, reminding us of the invaluable contributions of our tribal brethren and the importance of preserving and promoting their rich art, culture, and heritage. Let us renew our commitment to honoring their legacy by empowering and uplifting our tribal brothers and sisters, ensuring their full inclusion in the nation's progress while safeguarding their unique identity.

Message

It is a matter of pleasure to present this compendium of activities on the occasion of Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas 2024 a day dedicated to celebrating the rich legacy, culture, and contributions of India's tribal communities.

India's tribal heritage is a cornerstone of our nation's identity, reflecting a tapestry of traditions, wisdom, and resilience. From the forests and hills to the villages and towns, the vibrant expressions of tribal art, music, dance, and crafts have enriched our cultural fabric. This day commemorates not only their cultural contributions but also the pivotal role tribal communities have played in India's freedom struggle.

Our tribal heroes, such as Bhagwan Birsa Munda, Rani Gaidinliu, Sidhu-Kanhu, Tantya Bhil, Rani Durgavati Shri Badal Bhoi, Raja Shankar Shah and Kunwar Raghunath Shah, Rani Kamlapati, and countless others, stood as towering symbols of courage, resistance, and self-determination. Their sacrifices remind us of the indomitable spirit of India's tribal people, who have always upheld the values of justice, equality, and sustainability.

This compendium on Janjatiya Gaurav Divas 2024 is a tribute to these unsung heroes, our tribal artisans, and the enduring spirit of India's tribal communities. It showcases their unparalleled contributions in shaping a sustainable and inclusive future. Through this visual narrative, we aspire to highlight the vibrancy of tribal life, their unique art forms, and the transformative initiatives undertaken by the Ministry of Tribal Affairs to empower and uplift tribal populations across the country.

On this momentous occasion, let us rededicate ourselves to the vision of a self-reliant and inclusive India where our tribal brothers and sisters receive their due recognition, opportunities, and respect. Together, let us celebrate the legacy of tribal India and work towards empowering it for generations to come.

Jai Hind!

Dharti Aaba Bhagwan Birsa Munda: the pride of india

Bhagwan Birsa Munda, celebrated as the 'Dharti Aaba' (Earth Father) by India's tribal communities, stands as an iconic figure in the history of resistance against British colonial oppression and exploitation by Hindu landlords during the late 19th century. Born on November 15, 1875, in Ulihatu village of the Ranchi district, then part of Bihar (now Jharkhand), he became a beacon of hope for the marginalized tribal population.

Birsa Munda's early life reflected his exceptional leadership and deep-rooted connection to tribal traditions and struggles. He was profoundly affected by the injustices faced by tribal communities under the British administration, which introduced oppressive laws such as the Chotanagpur Tenancy Act and the Criminal Tribes Act. These laws displaced tribal people from their ancestral lands, rendering them powerless and furthering their exploitation.

Birsa's ideological foundation was inspired by teachings from religious leaders and social reformers of the time. Motivated by their philosophies, he dedicated himself to uniting and organizing the tribal communities. His message emphasized self-respect, unity, and resistance against oppression. He also urged his followers to revive their traditional rights, customs, and cultural heritage while combating the forces that sought to undermine their dignity and freedom.

In 1894, Birsa Munda galvanized the tribal communities to rise against colonial authorities and landlords in a significant uprising. Despite being armed only with traditional weapons, the tribal people demonstrated remarkable courage and resilience in their fight against the British forces. This rebellion spread across the Chotanagpur region, covering parts of present-day Jharkhand, Bihar, and Odisha, and symbolized the determination of tribal communities to reclaim their autonomy and rights.

Bhagwan Birsa Munda's legacy as a revolutionary leader and symbol of tribal resistance remains a source of inspiration. His life and struggle underscore the broader fight for justice, equality, and cultural preservation among India's tribal populations.

Genesis of Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas (JJGD)

Under the visionary leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the government of India declared November 15th, the birthday of revered tribal hero Dharti Aba Bhagwan Birsa Munda, as Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas in 2021. This day was established to honour the bravery, sacrifices, and contributions of tribal freedom fighters who played a pivotal role in India's struggle for independence, so that future generations may recognize and cherish this crucial part of our history.

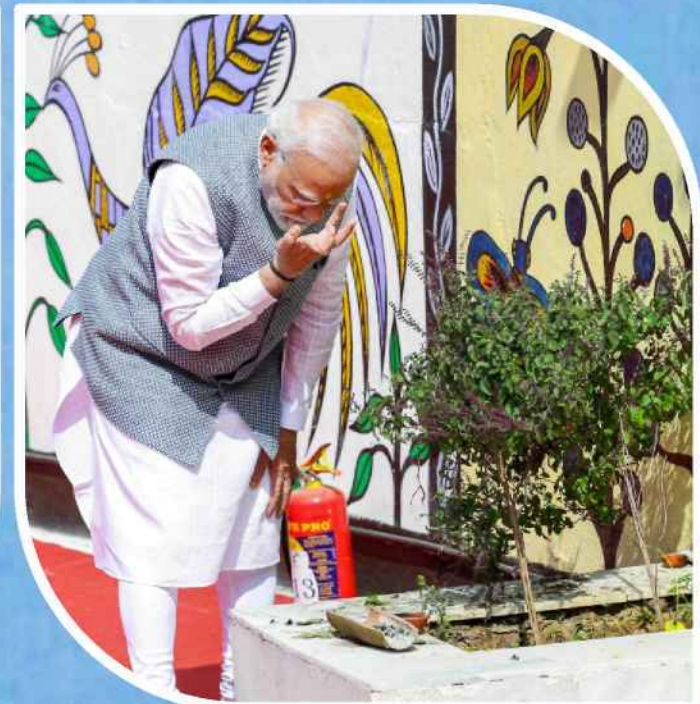

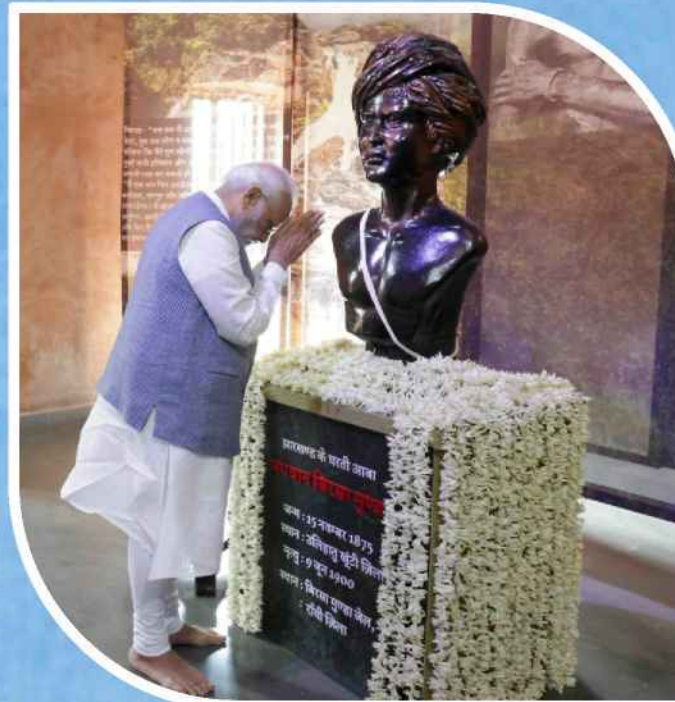

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi has consistently emphasized the invaluable role of tribal heroes, notably recalling their contributions during his Mann Ki Baat addresses.

In his Independence Day speech from the Red Fort on August 15, 2016, he announced the construction of tribal freedom fighter museums across the country. Eleven such museums have been sanctioned, and in 2021, the Bhagwan Birsa Munda Freedom Fighter Museum in Ranchi was inaugurated by the Prime Minister, symbolizing a tribute to the legacy of this great tribal leader.

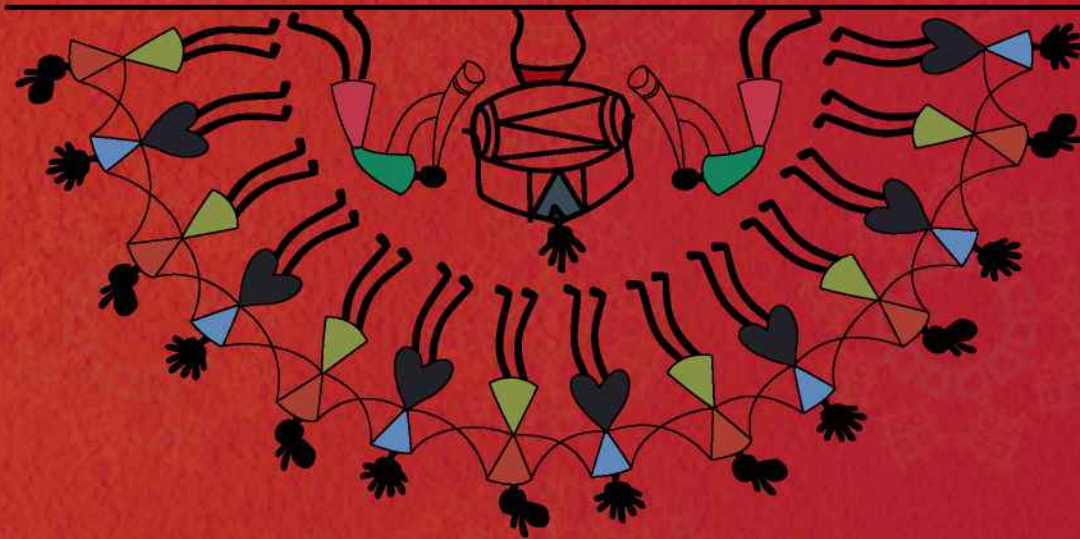

In a historic first, on Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas 2023, Prime Minister Modi became the first Prime Minister of India to visit the birthplace of Bhagwan Birsa Munda. Standing on this sacred ground, he launched two ambitious initiatives: the Pradhan Mantri Janjati Adivasi Nyay Maha Abhiyan (PM JANMAN) and the Viksit Bharat Abhiyan, both aimed at empowering and advancing India's tribal communities.

Marking the 150th birth anniversary year of Bhagwan Birsa Munda, Janjatiya Gaurav Diwas 2024 will be celebrated nationwide through a whole-of-government approach and with the spirit of Jan Bhagidari (people's participation). Together, the nation will honour the spirit, resilience, and pride of India's tribal heroes.

Hon'ble PM Shri Narendra Modi leads Grand Celebrations in Jamui, Bihar, Honoring Tribal Heritage and Bhagwan Birsa Munda's Legacy

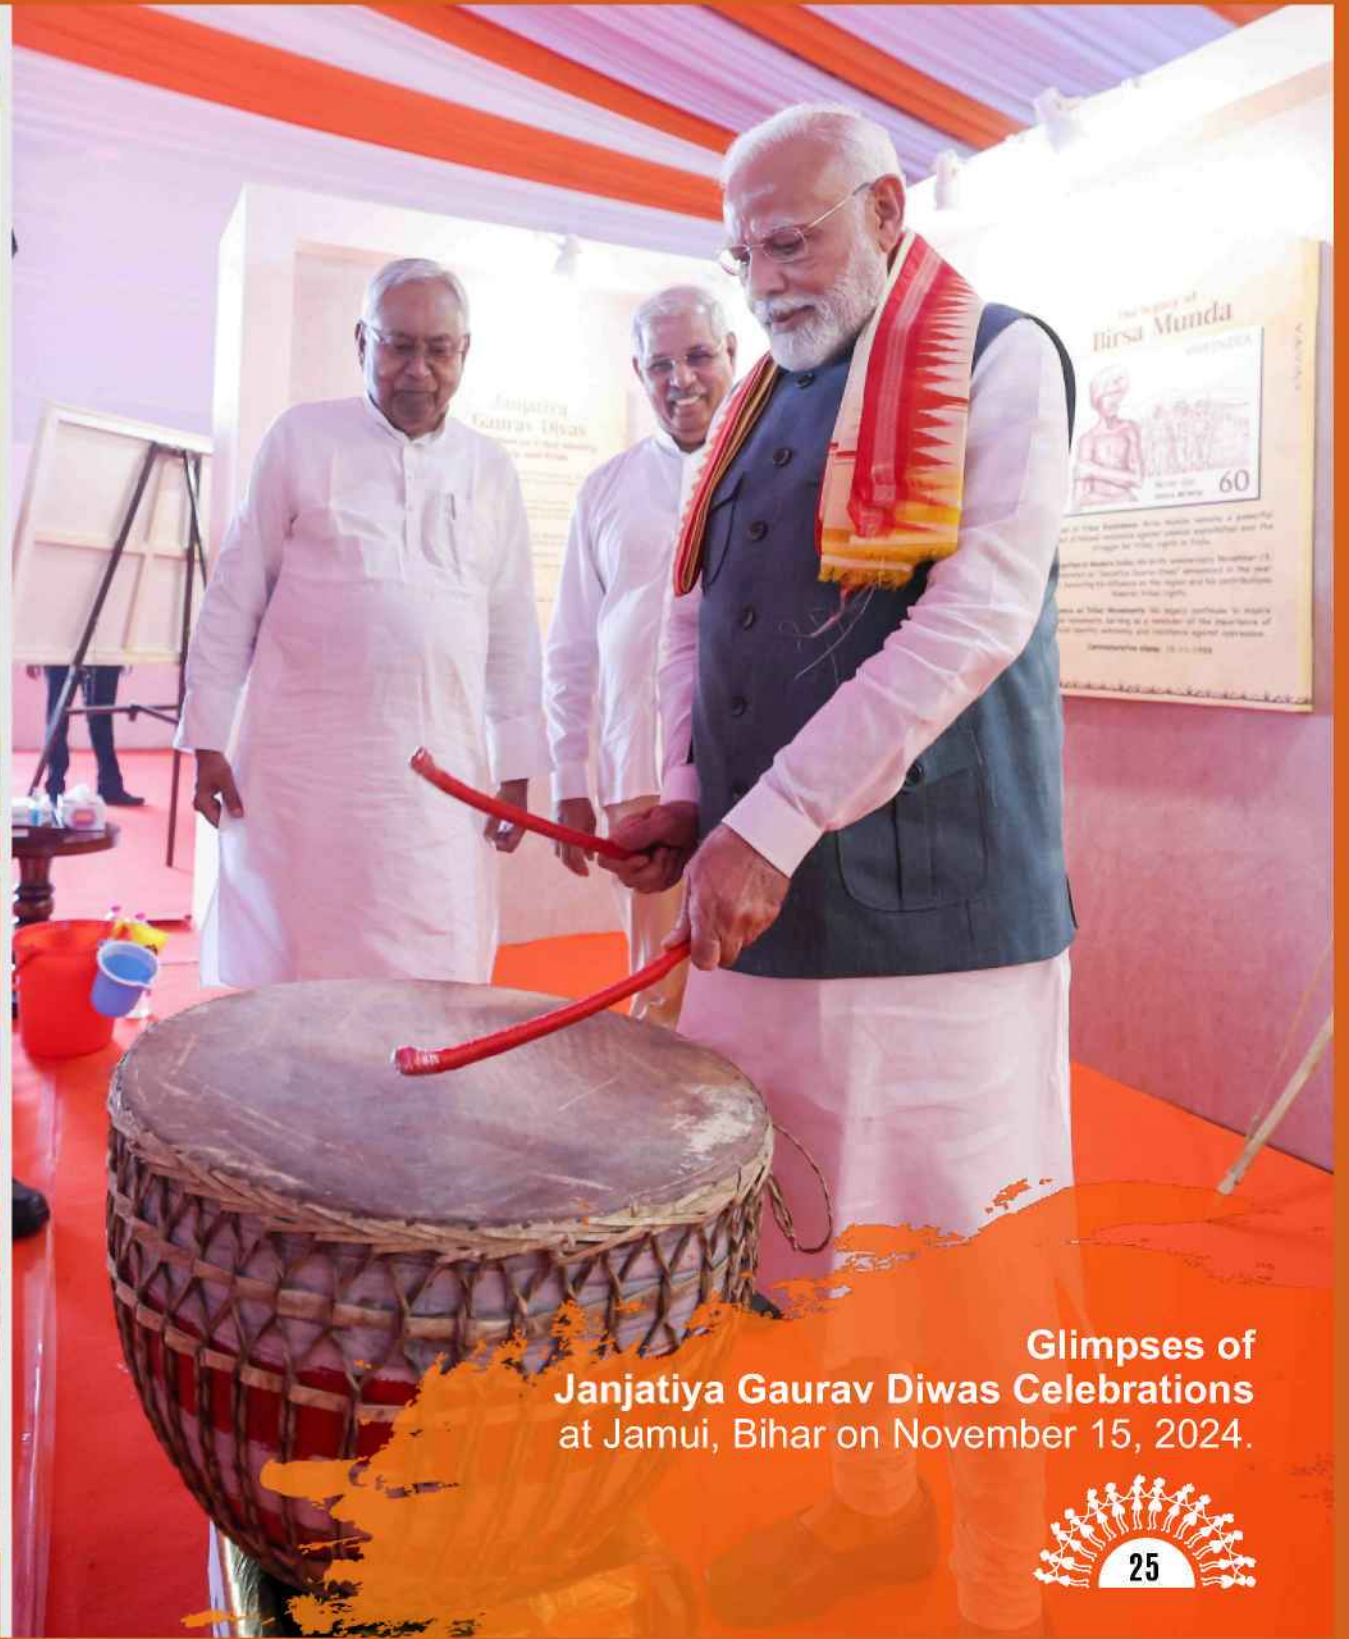

Janajatiya Gaurav Diwas 2024 commemorated the 150th birth anniversary year of Bhagwan Birsa Munda, a legendary tribal freedom fighter and social reformer. Celebrated annually on November 15, the day honors India's rich tribal heritage and recognizes Bhagwan Birsa Munda's unwavering fight against colonial oppression and his vision for tribal empowerment.

The 2024 celebrations saw enthusiastic participation nationwide, with a special focus on tribal-dominated areas. A nationwide virtual outreach program connected over 1 crore participants from 30 states and union territories. Two-way communication engaged 100 districts, while an additional 449 districts were connected via one-way communication.

The main event, held in Jamui, Bihar, was graced by the honorable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi as the chief guest, along with the presence of Chief Ministers, Governors, Cabinet Ministers, MPs, and MLAs. Their participation underscored the vital role of tribal communities in India's freedom struggle and cultural legacy.

More than 1 lakh events were organized across the country, embodying the principles of Janbhagidari (public participation), a Whole-of-Government Approach, and a Whole-of-Society Approach.

Janajatiya Gaurav Diwas is not just a celebration of tribal pride but a reaffirmation of the government's commitment to advancing tribal welfare, education, and empowerment, ensuring a brighter and more inclusive future for India's tribal communities.

Officials should make sure that govt benefits reach tribals effectively: HDK

MYSURU, DHNS

Citing his experience of 'Haadi Vasthavya', Union Minister for Heavy Industries and Steel, H D Kumaraswamy directed the officials to visit tribal hamlets regularly, once a week or fortnight to ensure government's programmes reach them effectively and bring them to the mainstream of the society. They should understand their problems and address them, he said.

He was speaking during the Birsa Munda Jayanthi and Janjatiya Gaurav Divas event held at Karnataka State Tribal Research Institute in Mysuru on Friday. Prime Minister Narendra Modi addressed this national event virtually from Jamui, Bihar.

Kumaraswamy said, "The PM has announced programmes worth Rs 6,650 crore for the welfare and holistic development of tribal communities. These programmes are meant to support tribal communities, including addressing their basic needs such as education, housing and healthcare. Even hamlets with just 100 people will now get road connectivity. Electricity and telecommunication access will be ensured to all the hamlets."

Union Minister of State for Labour and Employment, Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises, Shobha Karandlaje, who also joined the event said, "There is a good demand for organically grown Pineapple and Jackfruit in Orissa, Bihar and Jharkhand. The government is committed to provide market to fruits and crops grown by tribals and loans to those trained with various skills to start their own business. Tribals should make the best use of the opportunities available to them."

MLA T S Srivathsa, MLCC N Manjgowda, DCG Lakshmi Kanth Reddy, ZP CEO KM Gayathri, director of Department of Schedule Tribe Welfare, T Yogesh and several tribal leaders participated in the event.
